Responsible persons

The people organizing the THINK Conference are responsible for processing the personal data in the THINK Association, i.e. the leading board (Vorstand) and the members of the THINK Association, as indicated on <https://thinkconference.net/about/>.

Data gathering

The THINK Association collects the following data of participants and further interested persons:

- Name
- Telephone number
- Email address
- Food preferences (allergies, vegan, vegetarian, etc.)

Data processing

The gathered data are stored on an in the THINK Association internally used Google Account, which is only accessible by the members of the THINK Association. They will not be shared with any other third party. The data will be used for the following aims:

- Sending invitations for the THINK Conference and subsequent information.
- Sending information about events and organisations of interests similar to the THINK Association's.
- Selecting the provided food at the THINK Conference.

Due to the minimal amounts of data gathered, no data privacy impact assessment was undertaken.

Data deletion

To be able to advertise future THINK Conferences, the consensually provided data noted above will be stored until the consent is revoked. The deletion or information about one's own gathered personal data can be requested at any time via an email to think.organiser@gmail.com.
